

2022 Six Harts Vineyards Reserve Viognier

100% Viognier

2022 may be one of our greatest reserve Viognier's we have made yet. The pronounced florals and orange blossom on the nose accentuate the viscous acidity on the palette, making this perfect for drinking on its own or with the pairing of your choice.

Pairings:

- Herb roasted chicken
- Sea Bass
- Butternut squash

Vintage:

This vintage was one of the earliest years we have seen in some time for harvest. Every year it seems that Texas is facing unique and sporadic challenges, and 2022 was no exception. Extreme drought and intense heat had plagued both the Hill Country and the High Plains, with yields overall being a little bit down compared to normal. Even with the late bud break, the growing season progressed rapidly. A lot of producers saw crops coming into their winery up to two weeks earlier than previous years, leading to a fast and furious harvest season. The wines produced from this year have excellent acidity and phenolic development from vineyards that were not severely impacted by the drought.

Vineyards:

Six Harts Vineyards is in Tokio, Texas, right in the heart of Terry County. The soils of this region are largely very deep, well drained sandy loams soils. This vineyard is now owned by Jet Wilmeth of Diamonte Doble Vineyards, one of our amazing grower-partners in the Texas High Plains.
